To Present "Mrs. Wiggs."
The presentation of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" at Leader Hall on Thursday night, April 4th, by local talent, promises to be the most successful amateur production that has ever been seen in this city.

The play will be produced as far as possible just as the author, when it was seen at the Academy of Music in Richmond.

Mrs. Andrew Snellings, who is to play the role of Mrs. Wiggs, is directing the piece, and their friends and hearers have gone exceptionally well.

Mrs. Snellings, who has had no little experience in drilling amateurs, selected the cast with great care, and, indeed, each member promises to go through his part with credit to himself and the director. The entire company will include about thirty-five persons. The proceeds of the affair will go to the Presbyterian Church.

The costumes will be identical with those used in the original production. Those who have witnessed the rehearsal thus far say that the public has a treat in store.

There will be a pie-party given at the residence of Mrs. James, No. 1413 Decatur Street, Thursday night, March 28th, for the benefit of the Columbia Avenue Christian Church building fund. ## WRIGHT MUST DIE SAYS THE COURT

Appellate Tribunal, by Divided Bench, Refuses Rehearing in the Case.

TWO OF THE JUDGES DISSENT

Alexandria County Negro Must Seek Executive Clemency. Other Cases.

The Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia yesterday anticipated the usual opinion day, Thursday, by handing down several opinions in cases argued recently. The court will conclude its session to-day and adjourn for the term. A case of great interest finally disposed of by the court yesterday was the refusal of a rehearing in the case of Wright vs. the Commonwealth, from the Circuit Court of Alexandria county. The effect of this action will be to send a negro accused of criminal assault to the gallows, unless the Governor intervenes.

The decision of the court was by a divided bench, Judge Keith, the president, writing a brief opinion refusing the rehearing, and Judges Buchanan and Harrison concurring; while Judges Cardwell and Whitte again dissented. The appellate court again declines to interfere with the action of the jury placing upon it responsibility for its verdict, stating that the court is bound by the law. The opinion says in part: "A judgment upon which depends the life of a human being involves the gravest responsibility, and a court should receive its careful consideration. Especially is this true when, as in this case, the court, of last resort, finds itself divided upon the question of the sufficiency of the evidence to establish the guilt of the accused."

In the opinion the judge states that in the former opinion the evidence was given a full discussion, and that further consideration was not necessary. He states that the verdict of the jury is fully sustained by the evidence in the case. Continuing, he writes: "We know of no case in which it has been doubted or questioned that the jury were the uncontrollable judges of the credibility of witnesses." "There are minor discrepancies in the testimony which, if it be conceded that they tend to impeach the credibility of the witnesses for the prosecution, were solely for the determination of the jury. We are bound by law, and have no power to suspend, alter or relax its operation in order to meet a case of supposed or of real hardship."

Other Cases Decided.
In the case of Clark vs. Pohlhaber, from the Circuit Court of Elizabeth City county, the judgment of the lower court is reversed, and the case remanded. The case grew out of the injury of the plaintiff, a woman, by falling down the steps and into the cellar of the home of the defendant. The jury found for the plaintiff, awarding her $750 damages. The court maintains that there is no law which forbids a man the right to maintain a cellar in his own house.

The Tidewater Railroad vs. Cowan and others, from the Circuit Court of Monticemy county, a suit growing out of the condemnation of land for railway purposes, under the right of eminent domain, the court sustains the lower court, this awarding the defendants in the original suit instituted by the railroad, the amount allowed by the condemnation commission. The railroad regarded the figures as excessive and applied to the court for relief. Failing there, the case was appealed, with the result stated.

In the case of the Pine Beach Investment Company vs. the Columbia Amusement Company, from the Circuit Court of Norfolk county, the opinion of the court, written by Judge Cardwell, reversing the judgment of the lower court. The injunction granted in the lower court will be dissolved as a result of this decision.

THIRD COMPANY MUSTERED IN Company C of Blues' Battalion Passed Muster, With Fifty-Four Present.

A FINE BODY OF MEN
Colonel Jo Lane Stern Pays Company High Compliment—Drill to Commence Immediately.

With fifty-four out of fifty-eight enlisted men present, Company C, of the Richmond Light Infantry Blues' Battalion, was mustered into the service of the State militia by Assistant Inspector-General Colonel Jo Lane Stern last night in their quarters, No. 1208 East Main Street.

Colonel Stern, in the company many compliments when he addressed it. He impressed upon the men most forcibly that in order that the company be a success the men must give the officers the proper support.

The make-up of the third company of the Blues was, indeed, gratifying to the officers and those interested. The men are, with some few exceptions, seasoned militiamen. A large percentage of the members have either served in the militia or are graduates of some military school.

Several recruits were taken in last night. Among these was a member of the original Company B.

Captain Kent, who is in command of the new company, called the organization for a company meeting after the muster, and a committee was appointed to formulate by-laws for the organization.

It was also decided that the company should have an entertainment committee to look into the advisability of holding social sessions each month so that the men may become better acquainted with each other.

No regular drill night has yet been assigned for the present. The officers will be on duty every night in the week with the exception of Saturday, and nothing but squad drill will be done.

It will be several weeks before the command will drill in company formation. The service uniforms have not yet arrived.

No Treasurer Yet.
Judge Scott has not yet announced the appointment of a treasurer for the Blues. It is understood that the judge will make the appointment within the next few days.

A new candidate was announced yesterday in the person of Mr. L. H. Kemp, who has been for some years commissioner of revenue of the county. The prominent candidates in the field are Mr. W. B. Fryer and Mr. George Watt.

The annual alumni banquet of the Johns Hopkins University will be held at the Westwood Club on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. There are about fifty Virginia alumni of Johns Hopkins, and it is hoped that a large number of these will be present.

Dr. Edmund C. Armstrong, a member of the faculty of the university, has been delegated to represent the faculty, and will be one of the speakers of the evening.

Dr. Armstrong is a Virginian by birth, and is a brilliant scholar.

NEW JAIL WILL BE RECEIVED

With Minor Repairs Made by Contractors, County Will Be Satisfied.

TO WIDEN LABURNUM AVENUE

Commissioners Appointed to Ascertain Cost of Great Highway Change.

The board of supervisors of Henrico county met yesterday morning at the county courthouse. The new county jail was carefully inspected, in company with Architect J. K. Bryant. Several changes of minor character were recommended, and the board instructed its secretary to write the contractors that if these matters were corrected the building would be accepted at once. It is understood that the repairs are of an unimportant character, and can be made in a few days. It is probable that Sheriff Solomon will move the county prisoners from the city jail by April 1st.

The board considered the proposition of opening a new road as an extension of Laburnum Avenue, from the Hermitage Road to Acca Station, with a uniform width of fifty feet. Commissioners were appointed to ascertain the cost of acquiring the necessary land for widening the small wagon road already run through this property.

Several of the adjoining landowners, who petitioned for opening the road through to Acca, offer to give sufficient land for the purpose, and the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railway, which is to build a bridge and abutments over their tracks.

The board will meet next week to hear the report of the commissioners.
